

Collegetick.com

Short Pitch:

College Tick is a ticket marketplace to get the best seats in the house for your favorite college sports team!

Long Pitch:

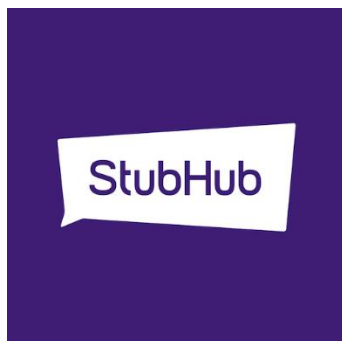

College Tick allows users to buy, sell, and find tickets to any specific college teams and any games home or away. We want it to be an Easy-to-Use system all around, where users can choose which team(s) they support and which sport(s) they would like to attend. It's a simple way to find the cheapest options for the best seats with little to no fees! With a team always out there, we're here to support you one way or another. It's a simple click of a button and users could have their tickets available for them on any device (phones or computers), with a very easy to navigate website.

Personas:

Danny – An annual season pass holder who is looking to sell his ticket for a game he would not be able to attend.

Bradley – A student wanting to get student section tickets to his university home game.
